

PROHIBITION LAW TWO CARLOADS OF ELOPEMENT FOOLS IS UNPOPULAR

ELKS TO COME MANY FRIENDS

Raid Made on Rooms Where Social Gatherings Were Enjoying the Flowing Bowl; Much Liquor Confiscated.

Roswell, N. M., April 22.—Showing that the prohibition law is rather unpopular in Roswell was the raid at 7 o'clock Thursday afternoon when City Marshal Wooster and Policeman J. H. and Ed Carmichael made a raid on the rooms over the Singer Sewing Machine company's office on Main street and found a large quantity of liquor. The raid was made on a warrant charging J. A. Manning, Postman, Will Foreman and Doc Wilson with being in charge of a place where liquor was kept in violation of the city prohibition ordinance. Mr.

Manning and Doc Wilson were standing in front of the place where the officers went to make the raid. They were arrested and Mr. Manning told the officers what they would find in the rooms and gave them the key to obtain admission. He gave his personal guarantee to the appearance of himself and the other three men before Justice Witt tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock on the charge of violating the prohibition ordinance, in keeping whisky in a place of business. The liquor found consisted of six cases of bottled whisky, several scattered bottles full or partly full of whisky, three small bottles of champagne and many empty bottles. All this was confiscated as evidence and taken to the office of Justice Witt.

Three more men were arrested last night by Policeman J. H. Carmichael for participating in a social drink. James Curran was arrested for giving the others a drink out of his bottle, neck of the Lewis pool hall. He pleaded guilty today before Justice Witt and was fined $5 and costs. Doc Alkins and John Holloman were arrested for receiving drinks and they are to be tried tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Why Live Merchants Believe in Calendar Advertising

Begins calendar advertising effectively couples the merchant's name with an article that is always conspicuously placed and constantly used.

Because calendar advertising is comparatively inexpensive, giving a maximum circulation at a minimum cost.

Business calendar advertising is continuous. It works for the merchant without removal expense, every day for a year.

Because calendar advertising is cumulative. It calls the merchant's name to the favorable attention of all who visit the homes of business places containing his calendar.

Because the giving of an attractive calendar strengthens that most valuable of business assets—the friendly, personal relationship between merchant and customer.

There are plenty of other good reasons. Any live merchant will tell you what they are.

If you want to get into the live merchant class, send for our catalog. He'll tell you the most complete and attractive line ever offered in New Mexico.

SPORT

HAPPYS TO TACKLE BIG COMPANY

They Will Play Dan Padilla's Aggregation at Traction Park Sunday and Believe They Actually Can Win Too.

A game between the Happy Lancers and Dan Padilla's Athlonians at Traction park is the Sunday afternoon offering to local sport lovers.

The Happy boys had so far a most successful season, having defeated all comers. In taking the Gross, however, they have a most formidable contract in the Lancers, and the prospects are for a lively game all the way from the time the umpire calls "Play ball." They say they will win.

The game will begin promptly at 2 o'clock. Admission 25 cents, with grandstand free. The Happy will be up as follows: Shortstop, Weeks and Murphy; pitchers, J. McNamee, 1st base, Caprara, 2d base; Chaves, 3d base; Higgins, short stop, Silva, left field; Stump, center field; R. McNamee, right field.

Varsity at Socorro.
The baseball game to be played this afternoon between the University of New Mexico and the New Mexico School of Mines at Socorro, will be called early, perhaps at one o'clock to enable the boys from the hill to return to the city tonight. They departed on the El Paso express this morning with every intention of bringing back a winning record in their score book. The line-up is the same as usual. They were accompanied by Faculty Athletic Chairman C. P. Conwell.

Socorro has just returned from a journey in the south. They negotiated six games on the trip and are in line for a keep scrimmage. Either Harrington or Lyons will take from the ship, and Carter will receive for Socorro.

EASTERN LEAGUE BALL REPORTERS UP IN AIR

From all over the Eastern league circuit baseball reporters are sending up a despatching cry for help and from repeated indications it looks as if every official scorer on the circuit will be compelled to hire an expert accountant to help him figure out the averages of the ball players. The cry for assistance is due to the new rule just laid down by Secretary Ernest Lanigan of that league in which he orders two new methods of scoring ball games, to be added to the already long list of changes that are kept. Without a doubt the fans will be interested in the new scheme and the players, too, for every bad player can tack averages by the string and the more you give him to talk about the better he likes it, but the scorer has a side to the matter and his is a ray of complaint.

In connection with keeping a record of stolen bases Secretary Lanigan proposes to rate the players thrown out on attempted steals. He figures that a better line can thus be kept on the individual ability of a base runner, as it will be easy to compare the number of stolen bases with the number of times the runner has attempted to purloin an extra sack. Also in the same connection he wants the records of how many base runners are thrown out by catchers to show the wing abilities of the men behind the bat.

His second idea is to have a new column added to the scoring sheet called the "Timely Hit" column. Anytime a player swats out a safety, when his team mate is on the base trying to be advanced he will have a timely hit chalked up to his credit.

Lanigan's idea of serving out food for the fans to discuss is all right but he is stirring up considerable trouble for the press box. In the lingo of the baseball game a timely hit in most cases refers to a safety that results in a score. But how about the man who cracks out a single with runner on first, and then the side is retired before he gets as far as the home plate? Will he get a timely hit to his credit or not? Thus far Mr. Lanigan has not explained.

Amado Gutierrez, the well known pitcher of the El Paso Internationals, is in Albuquerque today enroute to Gallup, where he will play during the coming season. Gutierrez is a high class man, and has made a fine record as a pitcher on different teams in New Mexico. He is expected to materially strengthen the Gallup aggregation.

OF INTEREST TO THE FANS

Ohio Boss, ex-Philippine hero, now with New Orleans, may become a Cub. Chance is sweet on the blind southpaw and he can get him if he is willing to pay Manager Frank's price.

Craig Kader, Nap pitcher, who graduated from Ohio State university before he became a professional, held New Orleans hitting for five innings.

William Robinson, McGraw's old Baltimore ad, will be carried by the Giants for the purpose of drilling young pitchers, a business he is strong for.

Rube Marquard's career as a big leaguer may sport a hiatus. The big southpaw may be signed to Newark, Eastern League, for more education.

Instead of being a Giant this year, Cy Feske, the slugging first baseman, is to go to Dallas, where he promises to be the hitting sensation of the Texas league.

Up to date the excess of management have not seriously affected the playing of Hal Chase. The Highlander has a masterful hand at pulling off those infield thrillers that have made him famous.

Doherty, who led the hitting of both teams in the Pirates-Tigers world's series year before last, clinched Detroit's victory over Cleveland on Sunday with a steaming double in the eighth inning, sending two runs across. He got another hit too, out of his four attempts.

Roger Brannahan not only is managing the Cardinals for all they have, but also is contributing some robust individual athletes to their game. Recently "Raish" assaulted the unfortunate Reds with a double and a triple scoring from both wallopers.
